

A CSBS White Paper: Reengineering Nonbank Supervision

Agreements/Other

About This Paper (updated February 2020)

The Conference of State Bank Supervisors (CSBS) has developed this paper, Reengineering Nonbank Supervision, to serve two primary purposes. First, as a stakeholder awareness document covering state supervision of the nonbank marketplace; and second, as a change document or roadmap to assist state supervisors in identifying the current state of supervision and making informed changes to state supervisory processes. The paper is comprised of several standalone chapters that together will cover the industry supervised by state nonbank financial regulators, the existing system of supervision for nonbanks, and the challenges and opportunities for state supervisors in reengineering that system.

This first chapter, "Introduction to the Nonbank Industry," provides a broad overview of industry participants that are the primary focus of state nonbank supervisors. We combine these sometimes unlike participants into a single industry of nonbanks, due more to jurisdictional coverage and supervisory constructs than similarities between the participants themselves. The common theme is that all of these participants provide or facilitate consumer products and services and fall under the authorities granted to nonbank supervisors (discussed in Chapter Two).

State financial regulators are the primary regulators of nonbanks operating within the United States. Together, they have forged a series of initiatives to modernize nonbank licensing and supervision. This research paper will contribute research and engage discussion on possible actions that might be taken.
